Manager

Tangerine Investment Management Inc. (the “Manager”)

Portfolio Advisor

1832 Asset Management L.P. (the “Portfolio Advisor”)

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Tangerine Equity Growth ETF Portfolio (the “Fund”) seeks to provide capital appreciation and growth by investing in exchange traded funds that invest in equity securities located anywhere in the world.

The Portfolio Advisor intends to primarily invest in capitalization-weighted index ETFs (or index participation units), representing four distinct asset/regional allocations, including but not limited to: Canadian equity, U.S. equity, international equity and emerging markets equity. Regional allocations to equities will be driven primarily by relative market size, meaning larger regions/countries will receive proportionally higher allocation than smaller regions/countries.

Risk

The risks associated with investing in the Fund are as described in the Simplified Prospectus. There were no material changes to the Fund over the year that affected the overall level of risk of the Fund.

Results of Operations

The Fund had net assets of $381 million at June 30, 2023 and $344 million at December 31, 2022. The Fund’s net assets increased by $37 million over the six-month period ending on June 30, 2023. The change was composed of investment performance of $39 million and net redemptions of $2 million.

Investment Results

For the period ended at June 30, 2023 (the “period”), the Fund generated a total return of 11.2%. It underperformed the benchmark. The Fund’s broad-based index, Solactive GBS Developed Markets Large and Mid Cap CAD Index NTR returned 11.8% during the same period.

Global equities advanced over the 6-month period as represented by the Solactive GBS Global Markets Large and Mid Cap Index (CA NTR) returned 11.2%. Inflation remained the dominant economic issue over the period. Many central banks continued to tighten monetary policy by raising interest rates or tapering their asset purchase programs to curb inflation. The positive is that this marked a deceleration in the inflation rate for most major economies; a major contributor was also the decline in oil prices from $80 U.S. dollars to around $71 U.S. dollars a barrel. Central banks continue to face the delicate task of balancing the need for economic stimulus with the risk of elevated prices. Nonetheless, the U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed), the European Central Bank (ECB) and the Bank of England (BoE) have not reached their target inflation rate of 2%, all three major central banks have hinted they are not done raising interest rates.

In the U.S., one of the main barrier to inflation returning to the Fed’s 2% target is the nearly 6% growth in wages – the labour market remains historically tight as the June unemployment rate was 3.6%. Fed Chair Jerome Powell could still hike one or two more times this year. He has repeatedly emphasized that letting inflation become entrenched would be a bigger mistake than overtightening and causing a recession. From an economic perspective, the U.S. economy more broadly remains in good health with first quarter GDP numbers coming in around 2%, marking the third consecutive positive quarter of GDP growth. Corporate profits are expected to rebound and start growing again this year.

Over the period, the Canadian dollar strengthened against most major currencies including the Euro currency, Japanese yen and the U.S. dollar.

Recent Developments

Since late 2021, inflation readings have been elevated in Canada, US, and Europe. Central Banks have been actively tightening monetary policies to tame inflation in a G7 world, led by the US Central Bank (Federal Open Market Committee), who raised the Federal Funds rate by 4.25% in 2022 furthered by an additional four consecutive 25 basis points rate hikes in 2023. High inflation and Central Bank tightening have had an impact on markets. Additionally, the war in Ukraine continues to cause significant economic and humanitarian damage, and has resulted in substantial disruption to global supply chain.

Notes:

- (1) This information is derived from the Fund's annual audited financial statements, except for 2023, which is derived from the Fund's unaudited interim financial statements for the six months ended June 30, 2023. The information for the net asset per unit section of the financial highlights are based on International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"). The Fund commenced operations on November 12, 2020.
- (2) Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase/decrease from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding over the financial period.
- (3) Distributions were paid in cash/reinvested in additional units of the Fund, or both.
- (4) This information is provided as at June 30, 2023 and December 31 of the years shown.
- (5) Management expense ratio ("MER") is based on total expenses plus harmonized sales tax (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and the proportionate share of the underlying funds' related expenses for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the year. The manager absorbed certain expenses of the fund, and expects these absorptions to continue in the future to keep the MER within a target range. Such absorptions may be terminated at any time without notice.
- (6) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs and the proportionate share of the underlying funds' related expenses expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
- (7) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance.
